Colors that are rooted in nature are having the most marvelous impact on the home. From burnt orange and sienna to chocolate, mustard yellows and earthy pastels, these subdued hues make any space feel more homey.

earthy tones

earthy aesthetic

Earth tones are the perfect bridge palette between vibrant brights and popular neutral. Not overpowering and far from plain, the earthy aesthetic is the ideal color story for modern botanicals and floral collections.

Just breathe.

Art is a powerful medium in the home. Wall decor can help us to create a peaceful space that reminds us to restore, reflect and revive. Look for soft color palettes of dusty pinks, greens and blues to help create an environment that promotes wellbeing.

elise catterall

"Flowers and art together create a really lovely visceral response in me, kind of like butterflies in my stomach and my mouth watering at the same time – it's really nice," says botanical photographer Elise Catterall. "I create large scale floral artworks in a home studio, shooting the flowers on a blank background so there is nothing to detract from their raw beauty." She came to her floral subjects via her career in naturopathy while writing a book about flowering herbal medicines. Through her business Floragraphica, she specializes in capturing wedding bouquets straight after the wedding to create beautiful wall art the couple can enjoy forever. She lives in Sydney, Australia with her husband, their two sons and dog.

70484 PARIS AFTERNOON

silvia vassileva

Silvia Vassileva pursued her love of art at the Academy of Fine Art in Bulgaria, where she earned both her bachelor's and master's degrees. She spent six years painting and exhibiting her work in Japan before moving to the U.S. Silvia describes her style as very free and bold. She makes her paintings come alive by using contrast and unusual color palettes. Silvia's home studio, which she designed herself, is bright, contemporary and minimalist.
