DEBORAH REVELL

Deborah Revell's artistic journey began when she traveled the world in her 20s along with a cherished Hasselblad camera, a gift from her great-uncle George.

Settling in San Francisco she became a best-selling artist for Chronicle Books and her work was licensed across an array of products from stationery and wall art to soft furnishing.

After living in Vermont and a years-long artist in residence in France, Deborah and her family moved to Devon, UK, where today, she draws inspiration from the sea's rhythmic waves and the dramatic scenery that frame her home. Her studio, nestled behind a local yoga studio, is her sanctuary where fresco meets photography. Here, Deborah crafts pieces that are more than just art; they are stories woven into linen that tell the tale of nature's endless beauty.

My love of nature was inspired by living in Vermont for many years and being an artist-in-residence in The Loire Valley, France for a year. I returned to Devon, UK, about 15 ago with my children to live by the sea. Now, my life has come full circle creating fine art photography again using a new process of combining a fresco painted background with my nature inspired photography.
